WINTER FISHING.—Some of the winter fisheries on the Potomac have commenced operations, and the proprietors of other landing are now in this city engaged in the exceedingly difficult and troublesome task of employing the hands necessary to work their shores.

Hundreds of idle colored men are daily walking the streets, while but few will hire themselves to go into the country. Mr. Joseph Cawood, on the night of the 9th inst., sent to Mr. John Scott, of Georgetown, by the Aquia Creek steamer, upwards of six hundred bunches of fish—rock, perch and other varieties—that were caught in the second haul of his sein, at Fowke's.

THE MARKET, this morning, was tolerably supplied with country produce—but we are sorry to say, there is no reduction—but rather an increase—in prices. Poultry is very dear—turkeys 25 cts. each; chickens from $1 to $1.50 per pair; ducks $1.25 per pair; eggs 55 a 60 cts. per dozen; butter from 35 to 50 cts. per lb. Of course very few people can afford to buy poultry, eggs or butter. The Butchers had good fresh meats at previous rates. Vegetables are few and unchanged in price.

SOAP AND CANDLE MANUFACTORY.—Messrs. Schuler & Niedomanski, at their Soap and Candle Manufactory, corner of Payne and Cameron streets, are making excellent candles and soap, specimens of which they have sent us. All who purchase of them are pleased with the articles they buy—and as this is a home establishment, we hope our dealers and citizens will extend to it a liberal share of patronage.

BIDS FOR SOAP OPENED.—Bids were opened at the office of the Commissary of Subsistence in Washington, yesterday, for supplying that department with 20,000 pounds of good hard soap. Among the bidders were Messrs. Schuler & Niedomanski, of this city. No contracts will be awarded until the sample furnished shall have been analyzed.

CONVICTED.—John Thomas, a colored boy from this city, who stole a ring worth $12 from Mr. Harmon Smith, his employer, to give to a colored girl named Lizzie, was yesterday convicted in the Washington Criminal Court, and sentenced to imprisonment in jail for two months.

CASES IN BANKRUPTCY.—The Richmond Dispatch says that the following named persons have lately been declared bankrupts on their own petitions: Edward Simons, of Loudoun county; B. Russell Darbee, of Fairfax county.

LAND SALE.—Mr. William Brosius, of Washington county, Maryland, has just purchased an estate of 700 acres of well improved land, in Northumberland county, Virginia, for $26,000.

ICE.—Hunting Creek was covered, this morning, with ice, from shore to shore; and the ice upon both sides of the Potomac were also coated over.

OYSTERS.—The supply of oysters at the wharf is large, and they meet with a dull sale, at from 75 to 80 cents a bushel.

REMARKABLE COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Some of the incidents that have occurred at the Court House of this county during the January term of the County Court have been, to some extent, at least remarkable, but yesterday evening's proceedings deserve special mention. About half-past four o'clock, during the trial of John Hodgkin, on the charge of resisting the authority of a civil officer, in response to a question asked by one of the counsel for the defense, the witness, George W. Rock, Deputy Sheriff, answered that he had known the prisoner at the bar all his life—had gone to school with him—but had lost sight of him for a number of years, until, while on a visit to a relative in Loudoun county, nine or ten years ago, he had seen him, while a camp meeting was in progress in the neighborhood, at what is called Dirty Camp, lying liquor, betting at sweat, playing at cards, and cock fighting. The witness was at this point interrupted by the prisoner, who, setting by the side of one of his counsel, Geo. Tucker, said in a loud voice, "You're a liar." Great excitement immediately ensued among the crowd which at the time filled the Court House. The witness, facing the Court, composed of Lewis McKenzie, Presiding Justices, and Associate Justices Berkeley and Moore, appealed to it to protect its own dignity, and not allow that dignity to be assailed by scurrilous epithets applied to the witness on the stand, who was the Deputy Sheriff of the county of Alexandria; and remarking: "I suppose that if I were to choke the dirty dog I would be sent to jail for it."

Presiding Justice—"I don't know whether you would or not."

Deputy Sheriff—"Then I'll proceed to do so," and leaving the witness box the Deputy Sheriff advanced towards the prisoner, and had just reached him when Messrs. Richard Radd and James M. Stuart intervened, and the latter, the Sheriff of the county, proclaimed that, as executive officer of the Court, he would see that its peace and order should be preserved.

Order having been restored, Mr. Willoughby, Commonwealth's Attorney, arose, and in a few words impressed upon the Court the necessity of preserving and maintaining its dignity, and, as a summary condemnation of the incident that had just occurred, thought that a fine should at once be imposed upon the prisoner for the language he had applied towards the witness.

The Court agreed with the opinion of the Commonwealth's Attorney, and ordered the clerk to enter a fine against the prisoner, and that until it was paid he should be committed to jail.

Geo. Tucker condemned the action of the Court, and characterized its proceedings in imposing a fine upon his client as an outrage.

Mr. Willoughby suggested that in order to pursue the course the Court had adopted, it would be necessary to impose a fine upon Geo. Tucker for the reproach he had just cast upon its action.

The suggestion of Mr. Willoughby was approved by the Court, who ordered the clerk to enter a fine against Tucker for $20.
